ATTENTION LONDONERS

One of London's favourite birds is in huge decline and we're asking Londoners to step up for nature by taking part in our 'Cockney Sparrow Count'.

Everyone is welcome to take part. You don't have to be a bird expert. Simply fill in this form anytime between 18 June to 12 July 2012 telling us if you see house sparrows in Greater London. It can be done anywhere; at home, along your street or on a lunch break at work.

It's just as important to tell us if you don't see any house sparrows, as we want to know where they are missing too. You will help us gain valuable information about where these birds are surviving.

Please complete this postcard by 21st July and return it to:
Cockney Sparrow Count,
65 Petty France, London SW1H 9EU.

Or, visit www.rspb.org.uk/sparrowcount for our free online reporting form and more information.

Feel free to send in any memories of house sparrows along with this postcard.

We'd like to hear about house sparrows wherever you see them in London.
